Jim presents the Word of God through evangelistic preaching, music, drama and seminars. This unique means of ministry is powerful, effective and in touch with today's church.

Rev. Hughes is an ordained elder and commissioned evangelist with the Church of the Nazarene and an associate evangelist with The Francis Asbury Society.

For over thirty years Jim has been in the ministry, sharing the gospel through preaching, music and drama. This has taken him extensively throughout the United States and overseas, ministering in an average of fifteen different denominations a year.

Jim grew up in the parsonage and had the heritage of generations of deeply committed men and women as an everyday example.

The decision to move into full time service spanned many years of prayer and seeking God's heart. His desire is to use whatever means God places at his disposal to seek and save the lost and to bring the church a fresh vision of who we can be in Christ.

Jim often travels with his wife Wendy and their three children Shannon, Holly, and James. When not on the road, the Hughes family are active members of the First Church of the Nazarene in Vineland, New Jersey.

Biography:

Several years ago, Reverend Jim Hughes, began to feel a deepening of God's call upon his life. The desire was to present the message of Christ's love and how we, as a church, respond to that love through a life of surrender. This came into focus with the development of dramatic sermons, musical dramas and seminars.

The lifestyle of being crucified with Christ had always been modeled for Reverend Hughes. He grew up as a pastor's son and had the heritage of generations of deeply committed men and women as an everyday example. The decision to move into full time service spanned many years of prayer and seeking God's heart.

The focus of the ministry is to use whatever gifts God has given us to seek and save the lost and to bring Christians a fresh vision of how, through Christ, we can be the holy church He desires. Reverend Jim Hughes is a licensed minister who presents the word of God about one hundred and eighty times a year to more than twenty different denominations nationwide. Rev. Hughes has been in full time ministry since 1989. Jim is an associate member of the Francis Asbury Society

An update on his family and upcoming meetings:

On a personal note James and Holly have graduated high school this spring. They will be attending our local community college this fall semester as music majors. Holly will be a music education major and James will be a music performance major. James has also been working on his first CD of original work in the studio. He is hoping for a late summer or early fall release. Shannon is continuing her education with an internship through the college as a graphic artist. She plans to attend Rowan next spring to get her undergrad in Graphic Arts. In fact, she designed two of the new CD covers for Jim. Wendy has been accepted at Rowan for the fall semester as a junior in the discipline of psychology. She is very excited to be moving forward with her education.

We're thankful for a full schedule of meetings coming up. God has been moving in powerful ways through souls saved and lives changed! We are excited and expecting great things from God in the future. Revival becomes a unique experience as Jim incorporates drama and music into the messages. The design of each sermon, seminar, drama and worship experience is to call and equip every person to the style of living motivated and demanded by the cross.
